IN OUR MEMORIES 1992

■ If it had happened to a heterosexual woman who had been with 100 or 200 men, they'd call her a whore and a slut, and the corporations would drop her like a lead balloon.

Martina Navratilova, tennis champion, on the outpouring of support for Magic Johnson

■ We're here! We're queer! Get used to it!

Gay rights protesters, in a chant used at demonstrations

■ We have to act now to make sure you don't have to be a Rockefeller to afford decent health care in this country.

Senator Jay Rockefeller (D-W.Va.), millionaire great-grandson of John D. Rockefeller, on the need for nationalized health coverage

■ I believe that there is a devil, and here's Satan's agenda. First, he doesn't want anyone having kids. Secondly, if they do conceive, he wants them killed. If they're not killed through abortion, he wants them neglected or abused, physically, emotionally, sexually. Barring that, he wants to get them into some godless curriculum or setting, where their minds are filled with pollution.

Randall Terry, founder of the radical antiabortion group Operation Rescue

■ Women in this country legally have a choice; at least I think they do. I haven't checked the paper today.

Murphy Brown, a TV character played by actress Candice Bergen, on abortion

■ It was in June of 1981, on Ward 3B. We saw a young gay man with the most devastating immune deficiency we had ever seen. We said, "We don't know what this is, but we hope we don't ever see another case like it again."

Samuel Broder, M.D., director of the National Cancer Institute, on the first time he saw a patient with AIDS

■ I confess that after I arrived in L.A. in 1979, I did my best to accommodate as many women as I could—most of them through unprotected sex.

Earvin "Magic" Johnson, basketball star, on how he got the AIDS virus

Quotations are the medium which transcends time. The ideas and attitudes of an era can be locked into the present and in our memories. They can be used as influence or omens on the journey through the uncertain future.

The 1992 yearbook staff used quotations to express the ideas of our school, nation, and era, as well as ideas from previous eras. We may use quotations to remember the past and take heed for the future.

"As I see the drama of democracy unfolding around the globe, perhaps we are closer to that new world than ever before. The future is ours to influence, to shape."

— George Bush

■ My job is a 7-day-a-week, 24-hour-a-day job. . . . I have to be able to communicate. It is in the national interest.

John Sununu, then White House Chief of Staff, on why he took a chauffeur-driven government limousine to New York City to attend a stamp auction

■ Sununu is living proof that you shouldn't give children their IQ test results because then they go through life thinking they're smart.

Edward Rollins, Republican po-

■ No doctor can help me anymore. If God won't come to me, I'm going to find God. I can't stand it any longer.

Marjorie Wantz, 58, explaining in a note why she killed herself using Dr. Jack Kevorkian's "suicide machine"

■ They're never going to believe this one.

James "Whitey" Bulger, reputed mobster, on sharing a $14 million Massachusetts lottery pot

■ I'm going to admit tonight for the first time publicly that I am Frank Sinatra's love child.

Ron Reagan, referring, jokingly, to biographer Kitty Kelley's allegation that his mother, Nancy Reagan, and Sinatra were lovers

■ The New World Order starts here. The "free" in Free World doesn't refer to parking.

Lucius Riccio, New York City transportation commissioner, announcing plans to crack down on diplomats who fail to pay parking tickets

■ Heard any good jokes lately?

Pee-wee Herman, a.k.a. Paul Reubens, comedian, in his first public appearance after an arrest for indecent exposure

■ The Lord told me it's flat none of your business.

Jimmy Swaggart, televangelist, to his congregation in Baton Rouge, La., about being discovered, again, with a prostitute

■ None of your damn business.

Spokesman for Rep. Dan Rostenkowski (D-Ill.), when asked whether the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee had bounced any checks at the House bank ▭

Inspiration,

Dedication . . .

"Sometimes the fight itself is more important than the outcome of the battle."
WENDY SIMEONE

The graduating class of 1992 would like to dedicate this yearbook to someone who emulates the spirit of our class and our school. This dedication is to someone who inspires us not only with her words, but also by setting an example for us to follow. This person has given more to us as individuals than we could ever return. Without question Mrs. Wendy Simeone has done all of this and more.

Mrs. Simeone has always extended her assistance and sympathy to anyone in need and in doing so surpassed her duties as a teacher. She uses every bit of energy she can possibly exert to prepare us, not only for tests and quizzes, but for life. In her classroom, students are encouraged to think freely and explore all aspects of every viewpoint. This is essential to the development of a maturing young adult. She stresses the importance of the individual, respecting all ideas, and educating her students to do the same.

Perhaps the most important thing Mrs. Simeone has taught us cannot be found in any textbook. It is a feeling, a consciousness. She has shown us that it is important to stand up and fight for what we believe in and what we desire out of life, no matter what the odds. We have been shown that no matter how uphill the battle it is important never to lose sight because, "sometimes the fight itself is more important than the outcome of the battle."

"Find simplicity; grow to understand nature; and do not fear the unknown."
WENDY SIMEONE

TO THE CLASS OF 1992,
YOUR GRADUATION MARKS THE FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF CARVER HIGH SCHOOL. DURING THIS TIME COLLECTIVELY AND INDIVIDUALLY YOU HAVE CONTINUED TO SUCCEED IN ALL AREAS OF SCHOOL LIFE. YOU HAVE ACHIEVED BOTH IN THE CLASSROOM AND IN EXTRACURRICULAR ENDEAVORS. YOU HAVE GROWN INTELLECTUALLY AND SOCIALLY. YOU HAVE ACCEPTED YOUR RESPONSIBILITY WITH PURPOSE AND DEDICATION. THE RICH TRADITIONS OF EXCELLENCE AND ACHIEVEMENT, THE BENCHMARK OF CARVER HIGH SCHOOL, HAVE BEEN STRENGTHENED THROUGH YOUR "COMMITMENT TO EXCELLENCE." THE CLASS OF 1992 HAS PROVIDED WORTHY GOALS FOR FUTURE STUDENTS.
MAY YOUR FUTURE BE CHARACTERIZED BY THE EXCELLENCE YOU HAVE ACHIEVED AT CARVER HIGH SCHOOL.

THOMAS M. LONG, PRINCIPAL
12/11/91

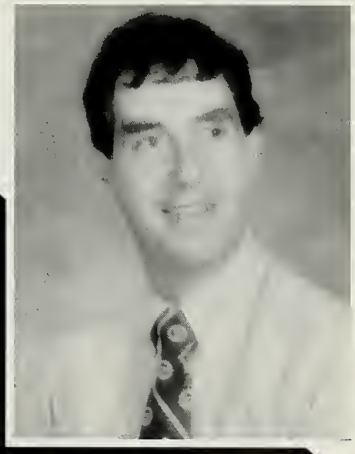
I would like to congratulate the Class of 1992 for its outstanding accomplishments. May your future be filled with happiness and success. Good luck to you all. I wish you a very happy and healthy life.
When things go wrong as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all uphill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,

Don't give up though the pace seems slow —
You may succeed with another blow.

Success is failure turned inside out,
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
And you can never tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems so far;

So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit,
It's when things seem worst that you must not quit!

Author unknown



To the Class of 1992,
You are the first graduating class to have spent five years at Carver High School. Watching you grow from eighth graders to seniors has been a pleasure and has taught me many valuable lessons. One of the most important lessons has been seeing the value of having patience when dealing with junior high students. Many of you struggled as eighth graders and often felt overwhelmed by the experience. But, you stuck with it, you grew and now you have prevailed. You made it! From my observations the finished product was worth the effort. Good luck. I hope you continue your successes as you further your education or enter the work force.

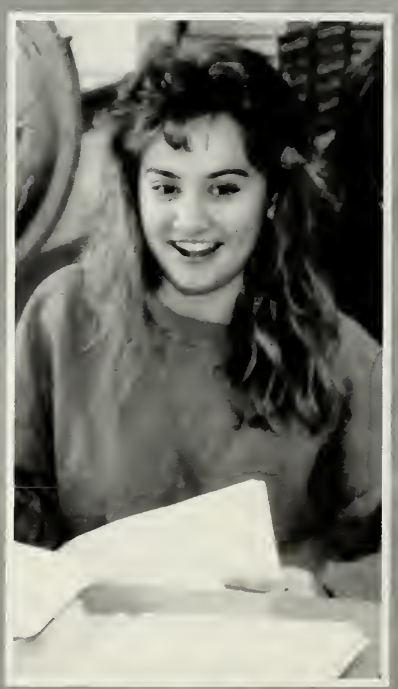
SPIRIT WEEK '92'



MCMXCII

SENIOR Photographs

I've had my share of broken dreams,
And more than a couple of falls.
And in chasing what I thought were moonbeams — I have run into a couple of walls.
But in looking back
At the faces I've been,
I'd sure be the first one to say —
When I look at myself today,
I wouldn't have done it
Any other way.

"Full circle, from the tomb of the womb to the womb of the tomb, we come: an ambiguous enigmatical incursion into a world of solid matter that is soon to melt from us like the substance of a dream." (Joseph Cambell) 12 years gone but not forgotten and I have survived."That which does not kill you, makes you stronger." (F.W.Nietzsche) I will surely remember the individuals, and hope the memories are kept in your mind too. "I wondered when this would happen again/Now I watch that red line, reach that number again/The blood in our veins and the brains in our heads . . ." (Siouxsie and the Banshees, 92 degrees) We are all fortunate to have made it this far after being thrust into society at such a young age, unsure of the world. "You don't have alot of time or restive moments to relish your position. We're vulnerable. The only thing thats solid is our own creativity." (Chris Cornell,Soundgarden) I hope all of you never give up hope even when it seems easiest. Don't let the rest of the world get you down, don't cop out. "Each of us can outflank our fears, outgrow our prejudices, outlast our troubles, outwit our worries, outlive our critics, and outlove our enemies" (William Arthur Ward)

For every ending,
there's a new beginning,
a chance to set new goals,
to dream new dreams,
to rekindle the hope in our hearts.
For endings are a way,
of rediscovering ourselves,
of learning who we are,
and what we need in life,
of finding out where we want to go,
and who we want to be.

Never before has history been so influential in daily life. Over the past year we have seen war come and go, Communism collapse, and many other events which have shattered the world.

The constant evolution of the world is brought to light through media which can report from the most remote corners of the world in a moment's notice. What a spectacular sight it is to see history made right before our eyes. What an age we live in.

IN THE NEWS

ANITA HILL

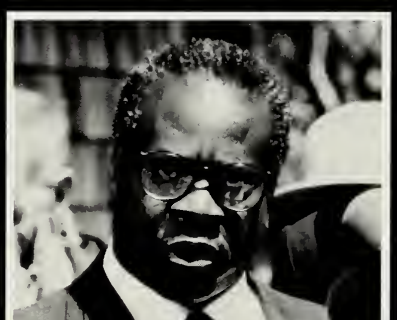
Life has not been the same for law professor Anita Hill since going public with allegations that Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas sexually harassed her nearly a decade ago.

Hill was valedictorian of her high school in 1973 and went on to Oklahoma State University as a National Merit Scholar, graduating in 1977 with a degree in Psychology. From there she went to Yale University to receive a law degree in 1980.

Most friends and colleagues described her the same way — honest, sincere and a principled person.

Although Thomas was confirmed, professor Hill insisted that by letting her story be known she had accomplished everything she set out to do. "All that's happened has made the general public much more aware of sexual harassment than ever before," said Hill.

She offered one piece of advice to victims of sexual harassment. "Try to find somebody you can trust and tell them," she said, "try to find somebody who can help make you feel that you are not at fault. Find someone you can trust because you can't take it all out on yourself, you can't internalize it."



CLARENCE THOMAS

Forty-three year old Clarence Thomas grew up poor, Black and Democratic in Pinpoint, Georgia, but later switched parties and became a controversial symbol of Black conservatism.

"Only in America," Thomas said after President Bush announced his nomination as the second Black justice on the Supreme Court. Thomas will succeed Thurgood Marshall who has retired.

Prior to Thomas's nomination to the Supreme Court, he served as an assistant attorney general in Missouri, a legislative assistant to Sen. John Danforth (R-Mo.), seven years as chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and a judge of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

In addition to the controversy of Thomas's legal views, a charge of sexual harassment was brought against him by law professor Anita Hill. Thomas vehemently denied the allegations and said, "This is Kafkaesque. Enough is enough."

After much debate over who was right and who was wrong — Clarence Thomas, Anita Hill, the system itself — the United States Senate voted to confirm him.

On October 18, 1991, Clarence Thomas became the 106th United States Supreme Court Justice.

KUWAIT OIL WELL FIRES

Firefighters were unprepared for the sight th were met with in Kuwait — scores of oil we sending plumes of red and orange flames 30 yar into the air. Oil lakes and soot blackened the sand

During the seven-month Iraqi occupation of K wait, more than 730 oil wells were damaged or s ablaze. Firefighting crews have been able to exti guish 584 wells since the effort began in March 199

When the effort to combat the blazes began March, it took an average of four days to put out o well fire. Now the teams are averaging 8.5 wells ea day, according to Oil Minister Hamous al-Rquba.

Oil experts say that if the effort continues at t same rate, the wells should be capped before the e of the year, earlier than the projected date of Mar 1992.

The faster rate of progress has been attributed the increase in the number of firefighting companie the availability of needed equipment, the completi of the water system and the growing experience the firefighters.

Teams from the United States, Canada, Chi Iran, Kuwait, Hungary and France are all worki together to clean up this environmental disaster.

FIVE U.S. PRESIDENTS OPEN REAGAN LIBRARY

Ronald Reagan threw open the doors of his presidential library on November 5, 1991, and invited the public to judge his turn in the White House.

A military band played "Hail to the Chief" and the crowd of 4,200 invited guests cheered as President Bush and former Presidents Carter, Nixon and Ford joined Reagan in the first gathering ever of five past or current presidents.

Each president took a turn at the microphone, praising Reagan and reflecting on their own presidential challenges.

The Spanish-style structure is nestled on 100 acres about 50 miles from Los Angeles. At 153,000 square feet, it is the largest presidential library and includes 55 million documents from Reagan's presidency, available for public inspection.

The National Archives will operate the library at an estimated $1.5 million annual cost to taxpayers.

"The doors of this library are open now and all are welcome," Reagan said. "The judgment of history is left to you, the people."

A GLIMMER OF MAGIC IN AN UPHILL BATTLE

"What I'll miss most is the uniform"
— Magic Johnson

THE MAN'S SMILE
was beautific, poignant in the light of the news he was delivering to a stunned nation. Los Angeles Lakers star Earvin "Magic" Johnson was joining a lineup of AIDS statistics too disturbing to fully comprehend: A decade after the disease was identified, 125,000 are dead, 200,000 are dying, 1.5 million are infected. Ending his brilliant 12-year career that November day, Johnson said he would become a spokesman for the assault on the disease. His disclosure delivered a message the country needed to hear: This is a home game.

1991's Battle of the Underdogs

America loves an underdog, and Americans love baseball. This was a good year for both. In 1990 the Atlanta Braves and the Minnesota Twins finished last; this year they finished the season in a classic showdown that fans called the greatest World Series ever — five one-run games, three of them stretching into extra innings, four of them won on the game's final pitch. The Twins (celebrating above) took the seventh and deciding game, 1-0 in 10 innings, but even the losers caught the afterglow. Said Braves second baseman Mark Lemke, "The only thing better would have been if we stopped after nine innings and cut the trophy in half."

President Mikhail S. Gorbachev of the Soviet Union and his family were placed under house arrest in the Crimea on August 19, 1991, as an eight-man emergency committee led by Vice President Gennady Yanayev took power in a coup attempt in the USSR. Crowds of perplexed people wandered among the many Soviet tanks parked behind the Red Square during the military coup hours.

Convoys of Soviet tanks moved into Moscow, less than two miles from the Kremlin. The Communist hard-liners who ousted Gorbachev sent the army's tanks rolling within a mile of the Russian Parliament building where Russian President Boris Yeltsin was staying.

Yeltsin called on Russians to resist the takeover, and resist they did. Constructing a protective human wall around Yeltsin's headquarters, his supporters demanded Gorbachev's return. As a former Gorbachev advisor spoke to the crowds, denouncing the coup and demanding that Gorbachev be allowed to address the Soviet people, hands were raised in applause.

On Wednesday, as the Communist party denounced the takeover, Yanayev and the other coup leaders fled Moscow. Latvia and Estonia declared immediate independence from the Soviet Union.

Before dawn on Thursday, August 22, an Aeroflat jet arrived at Vnukovo Airport, Moscow, bringing home Gorbachev and his entourage.

The coup had failed, and before the day was through, all coup leaders were arrested except for Interior Minister Boris Pugo, who reportedly killed himself.

Russian President Boris Yeltsin waved the white-blue-and-red Russian tricolor flag from the Russian Federation building before a crowd of about 100,000 jubilant supporters celebrating the end of the three-day coup attempt. Bodyguards held bulletproof shields in front of him.

In addition to telephone service being cut to all KGB buildings and Gorbachev naming a new chief of the KGB, the statue of the founder of the KGB was toppled while thousands of Muskovites watched.

Freedom has come to the Soviet Union.

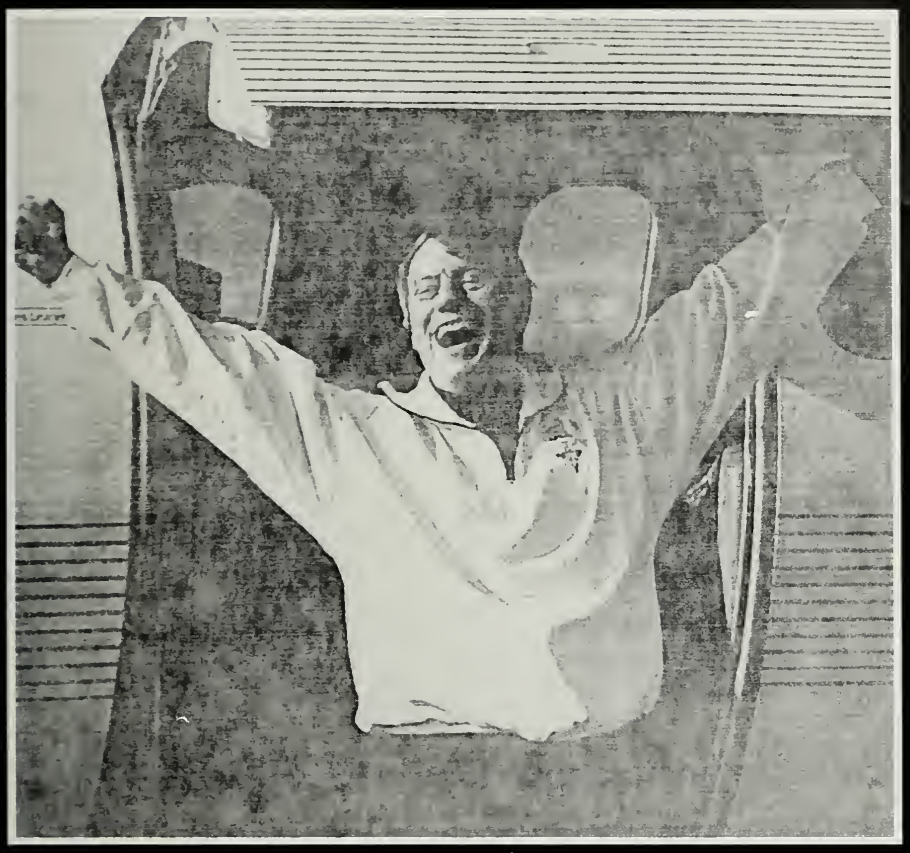
Terry Anderson

Joseph Cicippio



Thomas Sutherland

Alann Steen

Nearly seven years ago, Lebanese terrorists captured Terry Anderson, an American journalist living in Beirut. During his imprisonment in Lebanon, Terry received both physical and mental tortures which many people would not have been able to live through. Terry Anderson, however, did more than just survive; he triumphed. Each time his captors knocked him down, he got right back up again. He was beaten for only the first few months of his captivity, but then the terrorists tortured his mind.

The terrorists would tell Terry that he was going to be released, only to crush his false hopes with the reality of their lies. (He would be the last hostage set free, the one kept the longest in captivity.) Then, when Terry and his fellow hostages made a crude deck of cards and a chess set from aluminum foil to use to pass the hours, the guards took them away. Even when Terry was allowed to be in the same room with the other hostages, they were rarely allowed to speak to each other.

For seven long years, Terry Anderson lived this life. However, this experience only served to strengthen his spirit, not to break him. He did his best not to let his situation get him down. When he was allowed to speak to the other hostages, he kept their minds alert with deep conversations as he never wanted them to lose all the knowledge that they had gathered. It is an extraordinary few who can walk away from an experience such as this one and still have the positive attitude and strength that Terry Anderson has. It was his invincible spirit which prevailed and kept him going on, day after day.

Terry and his fellow hostages are people we can all look up to as models for the will and strength it takes to survive such an ordeal. Seeing the suffering that these people have endured without being destroyed makes it possible — in the most difficult situations — for us to gather up our spirits and use them to push ourselves forward up and over the most difficult obstacles to reach the self-reliance and freedom from fear that lies beyond them.

MATH LEAGUE

Math League is one of Carver High School's newest activities. The club was formed last year by Mr. Roy and Miss Drohan, who became the advisor. For the past year now, on the first Thursday of every month, 10 members of the Math League set off to do their best at a meet. The out-of-school meets are held once a month. Each meet is held at a different high school. We compete against such schools as Plymouth North, Plymouth South and Silver Lake. So far the Carver High School Math team has not managed to win a meet but we do our best. The students who participate deserve our praise and applause. Seniors: Jennifer Adams, Shannon Bell, Karyn Bowman, Julie Green, Laureen Mazalewski, Susan Mott; Juniors: Elizabeth Boucher, Darcie Confar, Michael DiCarlo, Sandi Fenelon, Pam Fontaine, Peter Murphy, Naida Rosenberger, John Sullivan; Sophomores: Amy Colagiovanni, Jonathan Fenelon, Molly Hunstiger, Randy Souza, Dan Ward.

"The final test of a leader is that he leaves behind him in other men the conviction and the will to carry on."
Walter Lippmann

The Peer Leaders of Carver High have one word in common — dedication. The Peer Leadership Program dedicates themselves to improving Carver High and making it a better place. The Peer Leaders are involved in a variety of activities which include the New England Patriots Basketball Game, an Alumni Breakfast, speaking to students at the Governor John Carver School about Peer Pressure, setting up a tutoring program, and making new students feel comfortable at Carver High. The Peer Leaders dedicate themselves to be alcohol, drug, and tobacco free. Peer Leaders are all well-rounded students who are respected by their peers. Applicants for Peer Leadership must go through an interview with the Peer Leadership Advisor, Mrs. Lynch, which determines if they are Peer Leadership "Material."

The 7th and 8th graders make up the Junior Peer Leaders. They are those young leaders who are also respected students. They are dedicated just as much as the Senior Peer Leaders.

The Senior Peer Leaders are a group of students who are determined to keep Carver High a respectable school. Along with the help of Mrs. Ruth Lynch, they are able to make the Peer Leadership Organization a desirable position for all students.

For several years now the Model United Nations have been working excessively hard to create a name for Carver. Through this year's wondrous group, Carver High School's representation at the U.N. Conference has been stupendous. Each member has improved on his / her own public speaking skills, research skills, and ability to enjoy themselves while working hard at making a difference. This past year Carver has represented Estonia (a newly independent Baltic State) and the Bahamas at the Harvard Conference and Spain at the New York Conference.

Yearbook is not a cult, it is a club. We work long hours to meet orturous deadlines, but yearbook never quite reached cult sta- us, as our predecessors so eloquently noted. Many people ex- ended their helping hands and without their assistance this earbook would not be possible. With a class as diverse as the lass of 1992, it is hard to squeeze all of its colorful per- onalities into one book. This yearbook is only a representation, key if you will, to unlock your memory. This is the key to the ear that was — 1992, and all of its memories.

UNLV

The Carver Crusader Marching Band under the direction of Mr. Barakat started the 1991 school year by taking a trip on September 14 to the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. The band participated in a Band Day Jamboree with 38 other high school bands from the tri-state area. The biggest highlight of the day was when all the bands totalling approximately 2,000 students went out onto the UMass football field all at once to perform at halftime. What an awesome sound (and sight). The Crusader Band has also performed at all pep-rallies and a halftime show during this year's homecoming football game. Marc Emond designed the show with the help of Band Council members Liz Boucher and Tristan Walsh. A color guard unit is presently being formed under the direction of Mrs. Eileen Holzman, a veteran drill team instructor. This unit will be incorporated into the marching band at the Memorial Day Parade.

Music takes us out of the actual and whispers to us dim secrets that startle our wonder as to who we are, and for what, whence, and where to.

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT, THANK YOU!!!

We would like to extend our thanks and our heartfelt gratitude to the CHS Guidance Department for putting up with us this year. You stood by us even during the rush hours the day before our applications were due when we were just starting them. You guided us down the path towards college and our future and forced us to meet all those deadlines. We couldn't have done it without you.

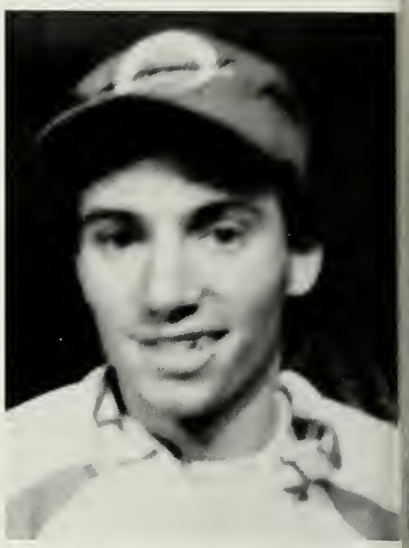
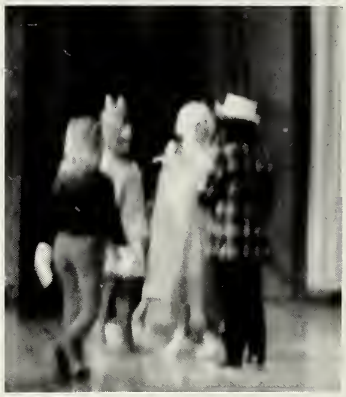
DRAMA CLUB



The Drama Club. A merry bunch of pranksters or just a bunch of kids having a good time? Well, whatever it may be, the Drama Club is the place to be if you're looking for some good ol' fun. It gives you the opportunity to express yourself in a way that just can't be explained. With the guidance of the wonderful Ms. MacNeil to help you along, that's basically the only rule to abide by. Once in, you'll never get out . . . HA HA HA.



"Like hungry guests, a sitting audience looks:
Plays are like suppers; poets are the cooks.
The founder's you: the table is the place.
The Carvers we: the prologue is the grace.
Each act a course, each scene, a different dish."

The CrusadeR

The Carver High School Newspaper

Carver, MA 02330

The 1992 Journalism staff is a group of very talented young writers. These reporters give it all they've got to make their articles perfect for the end result — the Carver High School's Crusader. By the time they've completed their final draft and saved it on the Journalism disk, they have a piece of literature that they can be proud of. Over the past year these reporters have written on topics such as: environmental health, sports, school activities, movie reviews, and their own personal concerns.

These students, however, do not only see the reporting aspect of Journalism. They also work on the production and distribution of the final product. For two days out of a two week cycle, the Crusader staff spend their time running off, collating, stapling and distributing over six hundred copies of the Crusader Newspaper. Through all of their hard work and determination, the Journalism staff have made the 1992 Crusader something to be proud of.

Do you remember a time when the only decisions you had to make were what color to make your flower and if you could have any three wishes, what would they be? My first wish was always for a new puppy. My second wish was always for a swimming pool. And my third wish? My third wish was always for a trillion more wishes.

In reality though, we don't get a trillion wishes. We have only a few chances to make the most out of our lives. Now it seems that there are so many new decisions to make. Do you want to live with your mother or your father? What do you want to be for the rest of your life? Are you going to college? Do you want a drink? Well, how 'bout a smoke?

There is so much pressure to make these choices. If you answer what you truly feel, will your questioners turn against you? Will they no longer accept you for who you are if you aren't what they want you to be? When you feel like the pressure of growing up and finding out who you really are is about to drag you under, think back to that little child that still lurks inside each of us. If you could have any three wishes, what would they be? Choose them carefully, you only get three.

Chances are your wishes have changed since you were a child. As we have grown and matured, those childhood wishes don't seem nearly as important as the events which affect our lives now. Our goals and aspirations have led us on a new path in our lives. We now share ties to family and friends, ties that often cause us to put their well-being before our own.

So think carefully about what your deepest dreams and desires really are. Those wishes can tell you a lot about who you are. They can show you what you really want for yourself. They can help you to see what you are worth, even if no one else will take the time to look. Whatever you decide you want for yourself, be sure that it is your decision. After all, would you have let someone else color your flower red, when you wanted it yellow?

AN ODYSSEY TO THE FENWAY

by Gina Tortora

June 18, 1991 — otherwise known as the last day of school to us — was the first time I had ventured to Fenway Park. I knew only as much about baseball as was taught in gym class — nothing more than that. It was my first professional game, and I really had a lot to learn about this type of baseball.

This game was against the California Angels. At first I did not know who was on the Red Sox team. Actually, I had no idea who was on either team. I knew that the Angels had little haloes around the capital A's in their names and the Red Sox had two little red socks on their jerseys. But by the end of the night I became familiar with the batting order and the positions and could place names to all the faces.

Soon after that I fell into a trap into which many Red Sox fans fall, an obsession with the "Olde Towne Team." I began watching nightly from Monday through Saturday and at 1:00 on Sundays. I began to do something I had never done before. I would read the sports section to see the standings, see what other teams they would be facing, and find out what to look for in strategies against them. Before I knew it, I had memorized all of the players' batting averages.

I purchased books about the Red Sox. One in particular, The Curse of the Bambino, by Dan Shaugnessy, is an explanation of why the Red Sox will never win a World Series. Shaugnessy is a renowned sports editor for the Boston Globe. In one month my knowledge of the original Boston sports team broadened tremendously.

With the remainder of the season, I attended two more games, one with the Oakland A's and the other, a double header, with the Cleveland Indians. The Red Sox became my favorite pastime. I have become a true New England sports fan, more specifically a Red Sox addict. Thus, I anxiously await another season of the Red Sox, for the magic of Fenway has hit me.

TO A VERY BRAVE LADY

by Mariann Nocera

Throughout my life many people have influenced me; but the person that has had the greatest effect on my life is my Aunt Jean. She is the warmest person that I know: she has always taken care of me when I am in need.

Since I can remember, my aunt and I have been close. We would always go out together shopping or just out for a drive. I have spent almost every day of summer there since the 9th grade. The past two years we have gotten closer than ever, and I feel as though she is like a second mother to me.

I have chosen my aunt as the person that inspired me most because she is so strong. She has had a most difficult time these past two years ever since she was diagnosed as having Hodgkin's Disease. (Hodgkin's Disease is a form of cancer which is defined as a neoplastic disease that is characterized by progressive enlargement of lymph nodes, spleen, and liver and by progressive anemia.)

It is such a shock when someone so close to you gets that sick. It made me realize just how much I loved my aunt.

In June after a year and one-half of treatment, my aunt was diagnosed as being in complete remission. Everyone's life became normal again; it was such a relief. This past summer with her was the happiest time I have had in over a year. She was given her life back, and I was given my aunt back. I spent almost every waking moment at her house.

Then, in the middle of summer, she felt two lumps on her neck. When she went to the specialists, they said the Hodgkin's Disease had returned after only two months. We had thought the first episode was shocking, but the second time was much worse because we already knew what she would have to go through.

Since this diagnosis, she has been going through a series of tests. After this we didn't think that it could get any worse, but it has. Just last week she was told that her cancer may be terminal.

My aunt has a very difficult time ahead of her, and the next few months are very critical, but she knows she has her family. Everything that has happened has made me realize just how precious life really is, and that people should not take their families for granted. I know I don't.

STAYING CLOSE

by Karlyn Olson

I remember my first experience with death. I was young, about eleven years old, when our family dog, whom I had grown up with died of poisoning. I didn't quite understand it at the time; I guess because of a child's inability to comprehend mortality; but since then I have come to learn much more about not only living, but dying as well. I have learned that not only do people eventually die, but so do many of the emotions that we so often take for granted. Without us giving emotion life, it couldn't survive.

I always used to believe that although everyone had to die, there were some things such as emotions that had the power of eternal life. Love, friendship, fear, and pain, were the four emotions I believed to be the strongest. As strongly as all emotions may affect our lives, not one has the individual power to remain immortal. In fact, it is usually not until we neglect, or lose one of these emotions that a person realizes just how much control they do have, in affecting their personal feelings. It seems like a common mistake for all of us to either push the responsibility of preserving an emotion onto the other person involved in the relationship, or to believe that the birth and death of many emotions is the fate of life. We do not realize, that as an individual we do have the power to make our own emotions last. Not only can we change the outcomes of our lives by making a variety of choices, we can also change the outcome of our feelings.

Five years ago today, one of the most important people in my heart, hurled himself into my life. It was Halloween night, and although we had just met, we seemed to understand one another as if we had known each other for years. Even though Halloween had never been a particularly important holiday to me, but it now had new meaning to me. For every Halloween that followed I celebrated another year of since I had met the closest friend I could have asked for.

When I first met D. that Halloween night, I never expected to gain a friendship that in fact would have the power to live forever. As time went by, I realized that it wasn't time, or fate that bonded our friendship, it was something more; something we had accomplished. Maybe it was the gift of youth, or maybe the promises that were never broken, but through work we succeeded in making our promise of everlasting friendship a reality. Sometimes I wish I knew exactly what it was that we did to change the bonds of friendship. I wish that I could always make relationships turn out this way. As a young girl I had been told that if I ever had even one friend, who I knew I could call, even after fifty years of silence, and still be treated the same as before, I was fortunate. Now having experienced the past five years of true friendship, I understand why. Mortality.

The dedication of Mary MacNeil to her many duties is infallible. Play after play she spends her time gently guiding young actors and actresses in their theatric endeavors. Her dedication to the Journalism students is evident from the quality of each article published. She instills within us a sense of accomplishment and self worth. The enthusiasm she adds to all she does is enlightening and her words of encouragement do not go unappreciated. Thank you Miss MacNeil for all you do to make our brief stay here at Carver High School most enjoyable.

Say Anything....

Christopher Jude LaCava

Man was given only a feeble structure in the shuffling of evolution. He was not given a thick hide to help fend off disease or built-in weapons such as sharp teeth, claws or horns. According to nature's laws, man was low animal on the totem pole. The most unfit, an easy prey for larger more nimble predators. Why is it then that a person can now walk the streets without fear of being stalked by any other predator except one of his/her own species?

Man did not play by the rules. Using and developing intellect, man surpassed the Laws of Nature. Man controlled what once controlled him. The ultimate example of the rise to power of the oppressed underdog.

Now man does not rely on nature to painstakingly make and dismantle compounds. Man rips apart and reassembles molecules to make anything he so desires, like a child playing with an erector set.

Man is no longer faced with answering to the laws of nature, but there are penalties, of course. Going against the grain and plowing a destiny upstream disrupts the fragile equilibrium of nature. The human race faces a host of environmental and social dilemmas due to its persistent quest to outdo nature. As Eric Hoffer wrote in The Return to Nature, "Man became what he is not with the aid of, but in spite of nature."

Man has already removed himself from his rightful place in nature by his intellect and the results are taking their toll. Nature would be totally upheaved if man took it upon himself to tamper with other animal's place in nature. I would not want any part in an unnatural act which furthers the deviation man has taken. I believe a genetic alteration in any animal would have catastrophic results. By tampering with the delicate intertwined web of nature, our forefathers have dug us into a hole. I would not want to entrench my children any deeper.

I'd love to run in the grass,
paint myself blue
and jump over the moon.
I used to want to be a dolphin and swim in the sea, until I'm not there no more.
I think I found the holy grail,
I think I had a sip
I'm not sure what will happen
next,
but I do know I want to stand on my head
and to be invisible from 9 to 5.
I want to walk on a rainbow
roll around in red.
I want to slide down
all purple and blue
I'll always be cooler than a snowball.
And when it snows
I'll catch every snowflake,
I'll lay in every snow drift, and make angels until they're mud
I'll play in the mud,
get all covered up
and be sure to clean myself off.
I'll jump in the water, I'll jump
in the air
I'll spin around dancing until I'm tired.
Then I'll lay down and rest my head
until I see you again.

Is there no man
With a hint of virtue?
Or are we wax dolls,
Molded by the plaque of other's ideals,
Through any man's eyes
There is no right or wrong,
Only more elevated degrees,
Of persuasive personalities.
So one must choose one's sword carefully
Then fall on it accordingly.

I've never gotten so close before,
and still felt clean
lying so close with no chains
connecting us,
it feels so warm, so much like home
I love to just lay and never move, and I know you'll be there staring straight at me, and you won't turn away
like everyone else did
I never want to say anything, never disturb the silence,
because it's so good to just be there.

S.P.

Poseidon, oh lord, oh King of the Sea.
Come listen, come watch, come speak to me.
My hero, the legend you to be.
Poseidon, oh lord, oh King of the sea.

Seniors Who Made The News

Green a portrait in courage in face of personal battle

INSPIRATION. The word is quite often used as a means for getting people going in all facts of life.

For Julie Green of Carver, it has become a way of life the past three years. Without even trying, her presence alone seems to do that, not just for her family and friends, but for people she doesn't even know. Three years ago, the high school senior was found to have a serious form of cancer, Hodgkin's Disease.

"I remember the priest at the hospital giving her the last rites of the sick," her mother said. "She was lying there in bed and, I was crying. Julie looked up at me and said 'Don't worry mom. I'm going to be all right.' She just knew she was going to beat it. It wasn't going to get the best of her. It was something to get over and get on with her life. It was just an obstacle in the way of rest of her life." — Diane Green

Julie has been in remission for the past year.

Carver HS student wins SADD contest

By MARY JO PALUMBO

A Carver High School senior who hopes to stop drunk drivers from getting behind the wheel won a nation contest — and $5,000 — by designing a logo for Students Against Drunk Driving.

Russ Jacob, 18, of Carver, designed a logo which will be used as the national campaign symbol for SADD

"Today it's Russ Jacob Day," Kevin Farrell, Carver High School's SADD adviser, said at a student assembl held Friday to celebrate Jacob's achievement.

About 350 Carver High School students applauded Jacob as he received an elaborately framed copy of h design and a check for $5,000 from Ketan Patel, a representative of Clearasil, the contest sponsor.

A certificate of achievement from the town of Carver was presented by Paula Babbin, a Carve selectwoman.

Jacob's design will be printed on materials distributed nationwide during National SADD Awareness Wee next spring.

"That little extra effort put our SADD chapter on the map," Farrell said.

Jacob's logo depicted two intersecting bodies symbolizing strength and unity against drugs and alcohol. H said the logo's bright, vibrant colors reflected happiness and well-being.

Jacob had forgotten about the contest over the summer and was shocked when his SADD adviser called t tell him he'd won.

"It was kind of unbelievable," said Jacob, who is also a member of Carver High's varsity hockey team Honor Society, Drama Club, Foreign Exchange Club and Future Problem Solving Club.

Jacob, who hopes to become an armed forces pilot, is filling out college applications and plans to use th money to help with tuition.

FALL SPORTS

CROSS COUNTRY

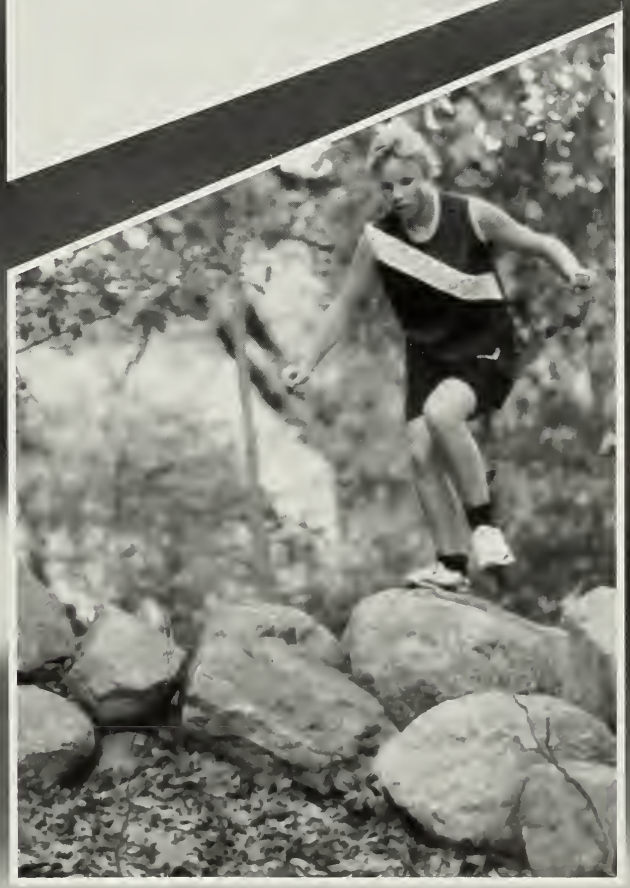
Front Row: Greg Weydt, Nathan Horrigan, David Cologiovanni, Sherry DiCarlo, Chris Paradise, Colleen McGillicuddy, Tammy Caron. Middle Row: Timmy Grant, Jim McGlew, Phil Dorfer, Alex Flynn, David Emord, Suzanne Sinkey, Jen Foley, Laura Merideth, Jackie Britt. Back Row: Kristin Brady, Dave McPherson, Mike DiCarlo, Steve Tibbetts, Randy Souza, Cindy Van Houten, Matt Bain, Chris Speakman, Pat Kenneally, Jen Baker, Mgr. Amy Duncan. Missing: Shawn Lucier, Tara Macuch, Cathie Lydon.

The boys' X-Country team had some very tough competition in the South Shore League, but hung right in with the competition. Led by Sophomore Captain and League All-Star Chris Speakman, the Crusaders showed determination, spirit, and certainly a lot of improvement. Juniors Mike DiCarlo and Matt Bain displayed great leadership to this young squad. Among Carvers top performers were Pat Kenneally, Randy Souza, David Emord, and Shawn Lucier. With the group of Seventh and Eighth Graders returning next season, the Crusaders are looking for a big improvement within the league.

DETERMINATION

To leave footprints
the sand of time,
ou have to keep
n the move."

The girls' X-Country team had an outstanding season, losing only two league meets. It is a very young team with plenty of promise for the future. The team has many outstanding young runners who should be exciting to watch in the future. The top position for Carver varied among Sophomores Tara Macuch and Jen Baker, along with Freshmen Cathie Lydon and Jackie Britt. Also scoring for Carver were Eighth Graders Laura Merideth and Jen Foley. A surprise newcomer to the team was Seventh Grader Sherry DiCarlo. Carver placed two girls in the top fifteen runners in the All League Meet with Laura Merideth placing thirteenth and Cathie Lydon fifteenth. This is definitely a team to watch in the future.



Field

The Crusader Stickers came off their finest season to date finishing up at 7 wins, 5 losses, and 5 ties overall. Their South Shore League Record of 6 wins, 1 loss, and 5 ties gave them a piece of their first ever league title. Carver's defense gave up only 9 goals in 12 games and 17 overall. Offensively 20 goals were scored by this year's squad, most ever.

Seniors this year were 3 time SSL All-Star and 2 time Brockton Enterprise All-Scholastic Shannon Bell, SSL All-Star and Brockton Enterprise All-Scholastic Lauren Smolinsky, as well as Gretchen Faelton, Christine Brennan, and Elaine Schwotzer. These girls will be sorely missed.

Hockey

GIRLS SOCCER

The girls' soccer team finished 3-15. The team was constantly improving during the year and played very well in their last six games. Most of the girls are playing winter and spring sports which will help them. Despite losing senior tri-captains Laureen Mazalewski, Karen Preston, and Dawn Pierce, the team is looking forward to improving their performance next year. Thanks to all the girls for a great effort and a unique experience which has helped both myself and Mr. Noyes to become better coaches and better people.

Carver pulls big upset of Cohasset

The Carver boys soccer team has not had too much to celebrate about this season. Until Tuesday, that is.

The Crusaders pulled off the biggest upset of the South Shore League season with a 1-0 win over Cohasset.

"I had 11 All-Stars today," said Carver coach Kevin Farrell, "Everyone gave an outstanding effort."

Gabe King scored his seventh goal of the season at the 27:29 mark of the first half off a feed from Jo Jo Fenelon. Carver netminder Brian Connelly recorded his first career shutout with seven saves to key the surprising upset of the Skippers.

This year's football team enjoyed their first winning season (7-4) in their brief four year history, culminating with an exciting victory on Thanksgiving. Hard work, sacrifice, and determination paid off for this team which had thirteen Seniors to lead them. There were no "Gimmick" plays this year, just names and faces: Helms, Holmes, Leary, EJ, JR, Hoss, Juice, Bird, Pac-Man, Gaudet, Poopsie, Hendy, Oakley, Rob, Turtle, and Chris, just to name a few.

Some highlights of the season were: A last play TD pass to give Martha's Vineyard their only loss of the season, Jarrett's 7 TD passes vs. W. Bridgewater, the bus ride to Whittier, Juice's pat (and dance) vs. W.C., RJ's interception vs. Norwell, coming so very close against E.B. and Norton, the offense driving 96 yards in 5 plays to beat 1st place Abington, and the shootout at Hull, a day that Angus said thanks to the seniors and played the game of his life. Jarrett, Scott, and Angus set new records passing, receiving, and rushing and the Offensive Line (52, 66, 57, 50, 63, 58, 99) deserves a lot of credit.

Thank you Seniors (EJ, JR, Hendy, Ricky, Nigel, Turtle, Juice, Scott, Rich, Ryan, Rob, Chris, Hoss) for your leadership, determination, dedication, inspiration, and perspiration. Thank you for your friendship and I hope you remember some of the things you learned from playing this game. I will miss you.

FALL CHEERLEADING

In the spirit of Carver High School, the 1991 Carver Cheerleaders were there supporting our teams and raising the spirits of the crowd. After long hours of summer practice and a week of camp the cheerleaders were ready this year with new cheers, pyramids and a lot of spirit. Led by coach Sue Smith and captains Wendy Dorfor, Julie Green, and Elise Senior this year's squad pulled together to place third in the second annual Plymouth Cheerleading Competition. This is the first time, since its existence, that the Carver Cheerleading squad had placed in competition. With a majority of the members returning next year the future for the cheerleaders looks RED HOT!

Elaine,
Thank you for the joy, love and sunshine you have brought to our lives. We are very proud of you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Julie

Dear Shannon,

Seventeen years ago, you came into our lives. So small, so beautiful, so helpless. We wondered what your future would hold? If we only knew then what we know now, we wouldn't have worried.

You are confident, disciplined, and so very bright. We know nothing, and no one can ever hold you back. The world is yours Shannon, now reach for the stars — Anything is possible.

We love you and are so very proud,
Mom, Dad, Michelle, Kelly, Sandi, and Cookie

Le vingt et Unième Siècle vous attend —
Bonne chance à tous!

Dear Chris,

You have accomplished so much in your short life so far, just imagine all that you will accomplish in the future.

Words cannot adequately express the happiness you have brought us, the pride we have in you or the love we have for you. May you achieve all your dreams and goals. But no matter what the future holds, our love and pride will never diminish.

You are the best of both of us, yet so uniquely yourself.

Love,
Mom and Dad

To Lauren,

You have always been able to see the beauty in the people and places that surround you.

We hope that you will continue to look for this as you go on to meet new challenges in life!

Much love,
Mom and Dad

Marissa Lynne,

Thanks for being our daughter! You have and always will be number one in our lives. Please remember we are always here when and if you need us.

Congratulations!
Love always,
Mom
and Dad

Dear Andy,

It's hard to believe our youngest child is almost grown and ready to leave home. The time went too quickly. You have kept us on our toes for the last 18 years. You have helped fill our lives with much interest and wonder.

You are now about to pursue your dream of the last sixteen years — firefighting! You are most fortunate to have such a clear vision of what you want in life. We are very proud of you.

All our love,
Mom and Dad

TO LAUREEN:

From the moment you were born you have been a source of joy and pride to us.

Your sense of humor has often made us smile and your many accomplishments have earned our respect. It has been a joy to witness your emerging independence, self-confidence, spirit, dedication, and concern for others and these qualities will serve you well in the future. You are truly a special person.

Always do what you feel is right for you and don't be afraid to face the challenges of life and you will be happy and successful in the future.

We will always be here to love and support you. Congratulations!!!

PARADISE

The time has come,
It's come so fast,
Many don't want it to leave,
They want it to last.

First Benjamin Ellis,
Then Governor John,
To a place in Plymouth,
Then we moved on.

For five whole years,
We've been at Carver High,
We just can't believe,
It's time to say goodbye.

Many many friendships,
Formed over the years,
When we all say goodbye,
They'll be many tears.

But we still have our memories,
They will always last,
Football games and parties,
The remnants of the past.

We have our chance now,
But it seems that nothing will suffice,
Yet it still seems like a dream,
or ALMOST PARADISE.

COMMITMENT to EXCELLENCE

STATE CHAMPS

This year the Lady Crusaders have accomplished something no other Carver team has ever done . . . won a state championship. For the past four years the Carver softball team has been a force to reckon with. They've battled their way to tournament play every year since the team's existence. The first year they were knocked out in the semi-final round of the south sectionals. The next two years they were knocked out in the south sectional finals. And this year they made it all the way.

This team of hard working and dedicated individuals were led by the two senior captains, Lauren Smolinsky and Melissa Johnson. Lauren, the team pitcher, dominated over batters with 328 strike outs and a 1.87 ERA. Melissa led the team in batting average with a .530 for the season.

This year's softball team was once again coached by Chuck Green. This year was a milestone year for Coach Green, who not only had his 100th win in softball, but received his 100th win in basketball. This year's team was also Coach Green's first team to ever win a state title.

With the momentum picked up by this year's team, Carver will be a tremendous force in softball next year and for years to come.

Julie,

Some special people are chosen to lead humanity by their inspirational lives. Your life is a gift to share and everyone you touch will be blessed by that gift.

It is with great pride we watch you close this chapter of your life and begin the next. The hardships you have endured and the lessons you have learned will be the foundation of your future.

The depth of our love and respect for you is immeasurable. God has blessed us with your life. It is with great joy we share this blessing with the world.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Congratulations!
To our Dearest Granddaughter Julie-Anne,

From the very beginning you have always filled our hearts with love, joy, and great pride.

We have seen you overcome serious obstacles, only to go on to achieve success in all your goals and endeavors. Your graduation is yet another stepping stone in your sheer determination to go on to bigger and better things.

You are an inspiration to us and to all who know and love you. May your future hold the fulfillment of your greatest hopes and dreams. God bless you sweetheart.

All our Love,
Nana and Papa Aker

Dear Karri,

I couldn't have asked for a more wonderful daughter. I am so proud of you. Congratulations. I hope all your dreams and goals in life become reality. I will love you always.

Mom

WHO IS Dark Man?

Wendy,

We're so very proud of the young woman you've become, with all the successes that you've achieved one by one. Our love will go with you as you go into the world. But remember, dear Wendy, You'll always be our little girl.

Love,
Dad, Mom, David, and Kimberly

Wendy,

My sister and my best friend. We will always have memories of days that have gone, but with your head held high it's time to move on.

Remember:

Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make your paths straight.

Proverbs 3:5-6

I'm so proud of you. I love you!

Your sister and friend

Turtle

One of the most happiest times in our lives is the day you were born. You have made us very proud of you. You're an achiever — if you don't make it the first time — you come back stronger until you accomplish whatever you set out to do. We love you very much!!
